Miss Pearl Eugenia Wyche

Miss Pearl Wyche Won Many Cone Mills Friends

Miss Pearl Eugenia Wyche, who died on Tuesday, May 18, at Moses H. Cone Memorial Hospital, had become a friend of hundreds of employees of Cone Mills during her 48 years as head of the Welfare Department of the company. Her achievements as pioneer in the field of industrial welfare work in North Carolina served as a worthy forerunner of modern industrial relations programs.

Funeral for Miss Wyche, who was 76 years old, was held Wednesday afternoon at Hanes Chapel. Dr. Eugene Few, pastor of West Market Street Methodist Church, and Rev. G. E. White, pastor of Carraway Memorial Methodist Church, officiated. Burial was in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Miss Wyche had been in declining health for about six months and seriously ill for 10 days.

She retired on July 1, 1951 from her position with Cone Mills after nearly a half century of continuous service.

A native of Vance County, she spent her childhood in Henderson. She graduated from Woman's College in 1903 and attended Oread Institute, Worcester, Mass., on a home economics scholarship.

The late co-founder of Cone Mills, Ceasar Cone, employed Miss Wyche several weeks before her graduation from college and offered to send her to observe any vacation camps or schools that summer in preparation for her work in the comparatively new mill communities.

She accepted his offer and attended a camp near Philadelphia and did settlement work in New York City.

Among the first things Miss Wyche did when she came to Cone Mills was to establish cooking classes. In those days the shifts were of 12 hours duration, so she held two classes for night shift employees on Saturday afternoons and other classes during the week, two of them at night.

In teaching cooking to children, she found that the mothers wanted to learn also and requested classes for themselves. Later, Miss Wyche directed the work of a cannery in each of the local communities.

Before the organization of the Cone Memorial YMCA, she directed debating societies for boys and girls and held game nights. She taught in addition to sewing and cooking classes in basketry. These activities were held in the old kindergarten building. After the YMCA's were built, Miss Wyche directed annual mother-daughter banquets there.

After working in White Oak and Proximity for about nine years, Miss Wyche expanded her program to include Revolution.

Helping people to have confidence in themselves was one of Miss Wyche's main objectives. She went about accomplishing this by teaching the housewives and children to do things of which they were proud. So much pride did they take in their sewing and garden vegetables that she helped them set up a booth at the Guilford County Fair.

The success of these displays caused her to set up a fair in the new weave room at Revolution in 1920.

When the second weave room was opened at Proximity, Miss Wyche held another of her fairs. In all she promoted six of those events.

As time went on, Miss Wyche had the opportunity to expand her department to include two welfare workers and one nurse for each community as well as a physical director for women and girls. Miss Frances Holman was the first nurse employed in this program, and she is now head of the First Aid Department at Proximity Plant.

After Camp Herman was opened, Miss Wyche was head of women's and girls camping for about 28 years.

Feeling the need for women's clubs in the local communities, Miss Wyche organized the Proximity, White Oak and Revolution Community Clubs, which are still active today.

During her 48 years with Cone Mills, Miss Wyche served under four presidents: the late Mr. Ceasar Cone, the late Mr. E. Sternberger, (Revolution), Mr. Bernard M. Cone and Mr. Herman Cone.

For 10 years she was a Sunday School class teacher at Proximity Methodist Church and for 22 years at Carraway Memorial Methodist Church. She was a member of West Market Street Methodist Church.

She was active in the Woman's College Alumnae Association, Piedmont Bird Club and Greensboro Astronomy Club.

She had made her home with the family of the late Mrs. E. Poole, a half sister, at 824 Walker Avenue.

FORMER EMPLOYEE — P. F. C. Jack H. Parrish, U.S.M.C., former employee of Revolution Flannel plant's Shipping Department, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Berry, Route 5, also employees of Cone Mills, is now stationed at Camp Lejeune and lives with his family at 1087 Butler Drive, Midway Park. In above photo Mr. Parrish is sending a message to Norfolk, Va., from a Communication Relay Station in which he is supervisor. He also attended military school at San Diego, Calif.

A New Significance

The last session of the Army-McCarthy Hearing brought to light a new significance to that unfortunate controversy.

It is now very apparent that David Schine is not quite as important to the case as many had been led to believe. Even Roy Cohn and the Senator from Wisconsin himself as individuals are not so important in the hearing.

Regardless of some embarrassing situations involving the Secretary of the Army, which incidentally we believe were planned by the McCarthy alliance, and regardless of some of the personal contacts between Mr. Adams and Roy Cohn, there is little room left for doubt that McCarthy and Cohn did persistently strive to get special consideration for David Schine. We do not believe that either of them can under oath deny that fact unless they commit outright perjury.

It is probably true that the Army and other government agencies did not try to ferret out Communism as rapidly as they should have. On the other hand, their unwillingness to go off half-cocked and probably seriously injure innocent people may have furnished the basis for what appeared to be just criticism. McCarthy of course has demonstrated little concern for the protection of innocent people.

Certainly charges of negligence or procrastination in that respect cannot be fired solely at the present administration, as the past administration was certainly not only guilty of failure to act promptly and effectively in digging out Communism, but there were definite signs of cover-up and resentment against attempts to uncover Communism in comparatively high places.

We repeat what we have said before, during the past administration when expressions such as "red herring" were in vogue, it required the activities of a mind and methods like McCarthy's to awaken the public to the danger that existed. We also repeat that we do not feel that such tactics or activities are necessary during the present administration. In fact, we believe that McCarthy has been rendering a distinct disservice to the American Government and has, in our opinion, helped the Communist cause. But behind the whole somewhat tragic hearing we now behold a conflict between the legislative and executive branches of our government. It is not now difficult to see definite signs pointing to an attempt by McCarthy to usurp executive and judicial powers. His ambitious and somewhat reckless methods of procedure if permitted to continue would seriously impair the keystone of our democratic governmental system.

Had Senator McCarthy sincerely solicited the legitimate assistance of the Army, of the FBI, of the Justice Department, and of the Executive Department, he could have accomplished much more than he has in the battle against Communist infiltration.

While he has from time to time paid lip service to a cooperative campaign against Communism, he has in reality endeavored to usurp power and use Hitler type tactics in spying, threatening, and intimidating.

By his methods, he has apparently sought to interfere with the proper functioning of the FBI, Army Intelligence, and even the executive branch of our government.

The President and his aides no doubt have a whole lot of information and evidence relative to illegal, unsound, and un-American activities of the McCarthy intimate group. Due to many reasons, some of which are very apparent, the Administration cannot afford to air all the information at this time, as it might prove very detrimental to the national welfare. This should be most obvious to the members of the Hearing Committee. We feel that, irrespective of party affiliations, the members of the Committee should realize the seriousness of the situation, and should further realize that it is not the type of affair that should be used to build up either party or individual political prestige.

We hope that enough of the people will bring pressure upon the members of that Committee and upon their associates in Congress to influence them to divorce politics entirely from their considerations.

They should all devote their energy and ability at this time to emphatically re-define the separation of the three branches of government. They should all spell out in a clear-cut proclamation that even though they are members of the McCarthy Committee, they do not subscribe to his ambitious program of usurping power that does not rightfully belong to him, to his committee, or to other members of Congress.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS from The Bible

Be still, and know that I am God—(Psalm 46.)

In the rush of the busiest day—in hurry, tension, worry, anxiety—if one will only pause for a moment to be still, to know that God is all about him: ready through one's prayer to be within him. What wondrous strength can come then in that still moment, in the consciousness of God's presence.

VOTE FOR J. W. DONAVANT FOR SHERIFF

For twenty-four years, I have served the people of Guilford County, as Deputy Sheriff. I am now asking you to vote for me as your Sheriff in the Democratic Primary on May 29, 1954. The service which I have given the people during these 24 years is better testimony than anything I can say about my qualifications.

You are entitled to know just what kind of law enforcement department I propose for the protection of the people of this County. Briefly stated, my program would include a wider distribution of officers in order to insure a prompter and more adequate service for all parts of the County; and the development of a criminal division of trained officers devoting their entire time to combating crime in our County.

I shall appreciate your vote and I will serve the people of this County to my very best.

Sincerely,
J. W. DONAVANT
